INTRODUCTORY NOTE.

Considerable changes have been made in the presentation of statistics in this volume of the report. The following tables are being published for the first time :—

Imperial Table XV-B.—Subsidiary occupations of agriculturalists.

Imperial Table XV-D.—Distribution of occupations by religion.

Imperial Table XV-E.—Parts I to IV.—Industrial statistics.

Provincial Table I.—Area and population of Townships, States and Special Tracts.

Provincial Table II.—Population of Townships and States by religions.

Table XV A-II has also been expanded by the addition of 470 columns to show—

(i) total workers and dependents ;

(ii) male and female workers having agriculture as a subsidiary occupation.

The addition of these particulars has necessitated the expansion of the statement from 32 to 66 pages. Despite these additions, the size of the statistical volume has been reduced from 431 to 286 pages. This has been accomplished by a combination of the following methods :—

(i) reduction in size of printing for the more lengthy tables ;

(ii) elimination of unnecessary information from Imperial Tables VIII and XIII ;

(iii) Rearrangement of Imperial Tables VII, VIII, X, XI, XIII and XV A-II.

It is anticipated that the rearrangements will facilitate the task of reference. It is believed that the method of tabulating the speakers of the tribal languages of the Province in Table X and the members of the several tribes in Table XIII, besides economising space, has many points of advantage over their separate entry into the columns of the prescribed statement.

(a) The unadministered portions of the Northern Arakan and the Upper Chindwin Districts were omitted from the Census in 1901, but their areas were included in the figures for the districts then given.

(b) There has been a transfer of congested districts from Hanthawaddy to Rangoon.

(c) Pegu and Hanthawaddy Districts have gained by accretion on the right bank of the Sittang. Thatôn and Amherst have suffered (the latter but slightly) from the erosion of the left banks of the Sittang and the Salween respectively.

(d) There has been erosion and accretion on the banks of the Irrawaddy affecting the areas of the Tharrawaddy, Henzada and Ma-ubin Districts.

(e) A part of the Myaungmya District was added to the old Thôngwa District in the last Census, and the two new districts of Ma-ubin and Pyapôn have since been formed.

(f) There have been numerous and intricate transfers between the Minbu, Pakôkku, Sagaing and Myingyan Districts. The total of the present areas does not coincide with that of 1901. Attempts at readjustments of the slight differences found have been made, but without success. The present figures are the result of careful enquiry and calculation.

(g) Forest reserves of an area of 400 square miles were omitted in 1901.

(h) The areas of the Kachin Hill Tracts of these districts are not known with exactitude. The northern boundary of the Myitkyina District is indeterminate. The areas of the Kachin Hills were excluded from the area given for Bhamo District in 1901.

(i) Slight increases are due to the inclusion of inland water areas previously omitted.

(j) The Deputy Commissioner reports that there were two errors (of 100 and 20 square miles respectively) in the original Survey of India figures which were quoted in 1901.

IMPERIAL TABLE II.

Variation in Population since 1872.

NOTE 1.—No census was taken in Upper Burma prior to 1891, nor in the Specially Administered Territories prior to 1901.

NOTE 2.—The changes effected in the Thayetmyo district after the annexation were explained in the Note to Imperial Table No. II for 1901.

NOTE 3.—Three districts, Myaungmya, Ma-ubin and Pyapôn, have been formed out of the old districts of Myaungmya and Thôngwa since the census of 1901. The population for the years 1901, 1891, 1881 and 1872 has been adjusted, as far as the available information would permit, to the district areas as constituted on the 10th March 1911.

NOTE 4.—There have been territorial changes in the following districts since the census of 1901 :—

{Rangoon / Hanthawaddy} {Myitkyina / Upper Chindwin} {Myingyan. / Pakôkku. / Minbu. / Sagaing.}

Populations for previous years have been adjusted to the district areas as constituted on the 10th March 1911.

NOTE 5.—The increases for the Northern Shan States and the Pakôkku Hill Tracts to the following extent are due to the inclusion of areas previously omitted from Census Operations :—

District.	Previously omitted Areas.	Persons.	Males.	Females.
Northern Shan States.	Kokang ...	25,604	13,389	12,215
	West Manglûn...	18,562	9,061	9,501
Pakôkku Hill Tracts.	Unadministered Territory.	9,123	4,478	4,645

IMPERIAL TABLE III.

Towns and Village Tracts classified by Population.

NOTE 1.—A return has been made to the definition of "Village" adopted in 1891. It is now equivalent to the Village-tract or the jurisdiction of a Village-Headman. This explains the large decrease in the figures of Column 2 since 1901, when the residential hamlet was adopted as the village unit.

NOTE 2.—In the Specially Administered Territories the residential hamlet has remained the village unit for census purposes.

NOTE 3.—The figures in Column 22 are as comprehensive as the records would permit. There were many instances in which it was impossible from the enumeration books to distinguish between residents and travellers.

IMPERIAL TABLE VII.

Age, Sex and Civil Condition.

PART A.—PROVINCIAL SUMMARY (By Religions).

NOTE 1.—This table is divided into two parts. Part A shows the distribution for the Province as a whole, of the total population and of each religion by age, sex and civil condition. Separate statements are also given showing the distribution for Burma Proper and for Specially Administered Territories. Part B shows a similar distribution for each district and each Specially Administered Territory; but in order to economise space, minor religions have been omitted, and longer age periods have been adopted.

NOTE 2.—No records of age were taken in the following areas. Their populations are therefore omitted from this table.

IMPERIAL TABLE IX.

Education by Ten Selected Tribes and Races.

NOTE.—The entries in this table are not exhaustive for the populations of the ten selected tribes and races. During the process of sorting, every individual who obviously belonged to one of the ten categories was included. But there were many members who were enumerated as belonging to sub-tribes or subdivisions of the main categories, and whose exact tribal classification was not determined until the process of tabulation was commenced. It was then impossible without a disproportionate amount of labour to commence sorting afresh for those who had been thereby excluded. This table therefore comprises all the members of the ten selected tribes and races who were enumerated either under their general tribal or racial names, or under their more easily identified subdivisions. The figures for the Talaing, Arakanese, Kachin, Danu, and Taungthu agree with those given for these races in Table XIII, showing that the analysis in this table is comprehensive for these races. It is not comprehensive for the Karen, Shan, Chin, Wa-Palaung and Chinese races.

NOTE 1.—The above scheme of classification involves two departures from the authorised scheme based on the results of the Linguistic Survey of India. A new group (the Miao-Yao) has been introduced into the Mōn-Khmēr Sub-Family, and the Lisaw Sub-Group has been treated as a separate group and re-named the Lolo-Group. The reasons for these changes are given in Chapter IX of the Report Volume.

NOTE 2.—The arrangement of groups in the detailed scheme of classification is based on general linguistic considerations; the arrangement of columns in the table itself is adopted rather to provincial conditions.

NOTE 3.—The entry of the number of persons speaking each separate language recorded would have expanded this table to about 250 columns, the majority of which would have contained one entry only. As the utility of a statistical table varies with its degree of concentration, a method of avoiding such an undue expansion by the use of what may be termed "Remainder columns", has been adopted. Extremely localised vernaculars have been grouped together in the main table and analysed separately in a series of supplementary tables on page 98. The number of columns has thereby been reduced to 82. The reduction involves no diminution in the amount of statistical matter presented, and tends to simplify rather than to confuse the scheme of classification.

NOTE 4.—No attempt at uniformity has been made in the analytic tables on page 98. The form giving the greatest amount of information in the least space has been adopted for each grouping.

NOTE 5.—An analysis of the persons speaking Sgau-Karen and Pwo-Karen (columns 35, 36 and 37) has not been made, as the number of persons entered simply as Karen is so great as to render any such analysis valueless.

NOTE 6.—A linguistic analysis of the population of the estimated areas has been effected, and the figures are included in this Table.

IMPERIAL TABLES XII & XIIA.

Infirmities.

NOTE 1.—The following is the arrangement of these Tables :—

Table XII, Part I, Distribution by Age.

Table XII, Part II, Distribution by Districts.

Table XIIA, Distribution by Selected Tribes and Races.

NOTE 2.—No record of the Infirmities was taken in the Pakôkku Hill Tracts, or in the estimated areas of Karenni, West Manglün and Kokang. Particulars for the inhabitants of these areas are, therefore, omitted from the Infirmity Tables. This accounts for the differences in the figures for the Shan, Karen, Chin, Wa-Palaung and Chinese Races, given in columns 2, 3 and 4 of this Table and as given in Table XIII.

IMPERIAL TABLE XIII.

Caste, Tribe, Race, or Nationality.

NOTE I.—The scheme of classification adopted in this table is as follows:—

	Pages.	Columns.
Indigenous tribes and races ...	142, 143	2 to 27
Non-indigenous Buddhist and Animist races.	144	28 to 31
Hindu castes	144, 145	32 to 55
Musalman tribes	146	56 to 61
Other races	146, 147	62 to 83

NOTE II.—Minor and localised tribes and races have been grouped into composite columns. An analysis of the entries in all such columns is given below and on page 148. The figures include the inhabitants of the estimated areas for which a racial analysis has been effected.

NOTE III.—The grouping of the Kachin-Burma Hybrid tribes and tribes of the Lolo Group in columns 10 and 11, and of the Salôns with the Môn Khmêr tribes in columns 26 and 27 has no ethnical significance. It was dictated by considerations of space. Separation has been effected in the table given below.

NOTE IV.—A complete analysis of columns 22 and 23 has not been attempted, as the large number of unspecified Karens makes any comparison between the Sgau and Pwo Karens impossible. An analysis of other Karen tribes is given on page 148.

NOTE V.—Details are given for eleven Hindu castes only. Owing to the difficulty of translating caste names into Burmese, the figures for the less known castes are unreliable. The majority of them are also numerically insignificant. An analysis of the figures in columns 54 and 55 shows—

	Males.	Females.
Other Castes returned ...	114,759	28,272
Castes not returned	79,170	20,537
TOTAL ...	193,929	48,809

NOTE VI.—A statement explaining the discrepancies between racial and religious classification in Tables VI and XIII is given on page 148.

Racial and Religious discrepancies Explained.

It is difficult to exhibit an agreement between the figures in Tables VI and XIII owing to tribal and racial limits not coinciding with religious divisions. Apparent discrepancies are to be found as indicated in the following statement:—

Race and Religion.	Table.	Columns.	Males.	Females.
Buddhist and Animist Races.	XIII	2 to 31	5,563,713	5,687,933
	VI	5 to 10	5,481,602	5,604,450

Mahomedan Tribes.	XIII	56 to 61	268,224	149,366
	VI	15 & 16	271,428	149,349
		Discrepancy	—3,204	—283
Christian Races	XIII	62 to 75	32,210	15,880

	VI	33 to 37	84	32
		Discrepancy	—84	—32
		Total Discrepancy...	Nil	Nil

With the above exceptions the corresponding columns of the two Imperial Tables agree with each other. The respective plus and minus discrepancies of 82,111 males and 83,483 females can be shewn as follows:—

	Males.	Females.
(i) Buddhist and Animist races entering other religions	83,892	85,092
(ii) Mahomedan race (Zerbadi) entering Buddhist religion ...	1,781	1,609

Particulars of the entries under (i) above are given in the following statement:—

IMPERIAL TABLE XV. A-I.

Occupation or means of livelihood.
General Table, Provincial and City Summary.

NOTE I.—Table XV comprises the following Sections:—

Section.	Nature of Table.		Page.
XV. A-I	General Table, Provincial and City Summary ...		153 to 164
XV. A-II	General Table, by Districts		165 to 230
XV. B(i)	Subsidiary occupations of agriculturists (actual workers only).	(i) Rent Receivers ...	231 and 233
XV. B(ii)		(ii) Rent Payers ...	234 and 235
XV. B(iii)		(iii) Field Labourers ...	236 and 237
XV. C	Mixed occupations (not prepared for Burma) ...		...
XV. D	Distribution by Religion		239 to 244

XV. E-II		II. Distribution by Districts ...	251 to 255
XV. E-III		III. Ownerships of Factories ...	256
XV. E-IV		IV. Caste or Race of factory managers	256

NOTE II.—The scheme of occupational classification adopted is radically different from that of the Census of 1901. It is given in full detail in columns I to IV of this section and in an abbreviated form on the title page of Section XV. A-II. It is based on the system of Monsieur Bertillon, specially devised to secure sufficient uniformity of arrangement to facilitate the international comparison of industrial statistics, while permitting sufficient elasticity for the treatment of the peculiar conditions of each country. This object is achieved by a fourfold division of occupations into Classes, Sub-Classes, Orders and Groups, the first three being uniform for all nations adopting the system, the fourth being specially adapted to the industrial conditions under immediate consideration.

NOTE III.—This section gives the classification of occupations for
- The Province.
- Burma Proper.
- Specially Administered Territories.
- The City of Rangoon.
- The City of Mandalay.

NOTE IV.—Records of occupation were not taken for the Pakôkku Hill Tracts, nor for the estimated areas of Kokang, West Manglün and the Brè Tract of Karenni. The populations of these areas are therefore omitted from all sections of Table XV. Details of the omitted populations will be found on page 23 of this Volume.

NOTE V.—The division of Group 2 into Sub-Groups 2(a), 2(b), and 2(c) has been suggested by agricultural and administrative conditions in Burma.

IMPERIAL TABLE XVI.

Occupation by Selected Races.

NOTE 1.—The occupations pursued by the indigenous tribes and races in Burma are so uniform, and the Census records of the Immigrant Hindu Castes are so unreliable that a general preparation of this table has been deemed inexpedient. It has been prepared for Europeans, Anglo-Indians and Armenians only.

Europeans, Armenians and Anglo-Indians by Race and Age.

NOTE.—The discrepancies between the totals of Columns 6, 19 and 32 of this table and Column 5 of Table XVII are due to the inclusion of ten European Buddhists in this Table and their exclusion from Table XVII.

PROVINCIAL TABLE I.

Area and population of Townships, States and Special Tracts.

NOTE 1.—The names of 47 Townships have been changed since 1901. A second part has been added to Column 1 of the Statement to indicate the original designations of such Townships.

NOTE 2.—Nine extra Townships have been formed since 1901 by the subdivision of one or more previously existing Townships. On the other hand, there have been amalgamations resulting in the abolition of the Townships of—

Kangyidaung	... (Bassein District).

Malè	... (Shwebo District).
Padu or Sadaung	... (Sagaing District).
Dayegaung	... (Kyauksè District).

NOTE 3.—In addition to the nine extra, and the six amalgamated, Townships, there have been changes in the boundaries of the following 69 Townships :—

The population for 1901 has been adjusted, as far as the available information would permit, to the Township areas as constituted on the 10th March 1911.

NOTE 4.—It has been impossible to carry the adjustments of population for changes in township areas beyond 1901. Consequently Column 11 has been left blank for 'recently formed townships'. In cases where township areas have changed, the percentage in Column 11 is the percentage of variation of the corresponding townships as constituted in 1901.

NOTE 5.—Separate figures for the populations of the specially administered Kachin Tracts attached to various townships in the Mandalay Division are not available for the years 1891 and 1901. They have, therefore, been amalgamated with the populations of the normal township jurisdictions for the purpose of calculating the percentages of variation.

NOTE 6.—The separate areas of the Kachin Tracts and the normal township jurisdictions in such townships are not available. The density of population shown in Column 12 is the resultant density of the amalgamated specially and normally administered jurisdictions.

NOTE 7.—The areas of the Sinbo, Sadôn and Sima Kachin Hill Tracts are not available, and their density of population cannot be calculated.

NOTE 8.—All areas of Kachin Hill Tracts in Bhamo, Myitkyina and the Katha Districts, and the areas of most of the Northern and Southern Shan States are estimated.

NOTE 9.—The double figures in Column 10 for the Northern Shan States indicate the percentages of increase excluding and including the areas brought within the census operations for the first time.
